

U.S. JOINS PARLEY FOR FOUR POWER AGREEMENT ON THE FAR EAST; TREATY IS BEING DRAWN UP

Political Prisoners In Ireland Released

LONDON, December 7.—(By the Associated Press)—King George today issued a proclamation releasing all political prisoners interned in Ireland. Approximately 3,400 interned persons are affected by the release order, which relates to all persons under internment as distinguished from those who have been tried and convicted. It was stated by the Irish office.

The following announcement was made from Downing street:

"In view of the agreement signed yesterday between the British and Irish delegations, his majesty has approved the release forthwith of all Irish interned under Article XIV-B of the restoration of order in Ireland act. Instructions to this effect have been given."

BELEFAST, Dec. 7.—(By the Associated Press)—In a message from Sir James Craig received by Lady Craig at Rathfriland County Down, today, the Ulster premier said:

"It now appears to me that peace may possibly be within sight if all work together to that end with patience and good will."

BELEFAST, Dec. 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, told the Ulster parliament today he did not think it expedient to make any statement with regard to the details of the new Irish proposals, as there were ambiguities here and there in the document.

LONDON, December 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Ulster's attitude toward the establishment of the Irish free state was expected to be defined today at a meeting of Sir James Craig's cabinet. A copy of the treaty signed by the British and Sinn Féin delegates reached Belfast yesterday while parliament was sitting, but the premier delayed its presentation until he had time to study it.

It is certain that the treaty will undergo searching examination before receiving the approval of Ulster, and many modifications undoubtedly will be proposed. However, as the treaty terms are given the option of retaining her present status, after revision of her boundaries by a commission.

Favorable action by the Dail Eireann is thought to be fairly well assured, and that of the imperial parliament, which has been summoned to meet December 14, is a foregone conclusion should the Dail approve the treaty.

Here and there amid the general chorus of praise for the agreement are some notes of warning that trouble may yet break out before a final settlement is effected, and this warning does not come from quarters opposing the agreement. It is pointed out that nobody has yet drawn from Eamon DeValera, Irish Republican leader, a statement as to his attitude toward the plan.

In this connection the Westminster Gazette says: "He (DeValera) will not openly oppose the agreement if he can be persuaded that it is for the permanent peace of Ireland."

The newspaper also learns, it says, that the government view is "we are not out of the woods yet; there may still be troubles and difficulties ahead."

In other quarters it is said that the attitude of the Irish extremists is causing anxiety to the delegates. These warnings, however, are accompanied by expressions of hope and belief that the difficulties can be overcome.

RECIPROCITY WINS IN CANADIAN ELECTION TO PROTECT NEUTRALITY OF CHINA

William Lyon Mackenzie King

OTTAWA, Ont., December 7.—(By the Associated Press)—The results of yesterday's general election were still incomplete this morning. It was apparent that for the first time in ten years Canada had elected a parliament with a majority favoring reciprocity with the United States.

In the new house of commons, W. L. Mackenzie King, liberal leader, will have a clear majority over all parties. He will, thus become prime minister of the dominion. The progressives, also favoring reciprocity and a low tariff, will rank second and the high tariff, headed by Premier Meighen, third. Mr. Meighen himself was defeated in Portage La Prairie, Manitoba, his home district.

The fall of the Meighen government, with its high tariff platform, was as spectacular as the defeat of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's liberal administration in 1911 on its policy of reciprocity with the United States. In yesterday's election high tariff, as championed by Premier Meighen, lost to the reciprocity program of Mr. King.

The result of the election is generally regarded in the Canadian capital as a decisive pronouncement by the people on the tariff question. The heads of the three main parties made this the chief issue of the campaign, and turned the dominion expounding their several gospel.

At yesterday's election for the first time in the political history of Canada, women voted on terms of equality with men. Miss MacPhail, progressive, was elected to parliament in the southern Grey district of Ontario. She will be the first woman member of the house of commons.

TORONTO, Dec. 7.—The liberal party obtained 121 seats in yesterday's general election more than the combined vote of all other parties, according to revised returns compiled today by the Canadian Press.

No returns have been received from Yukon territory, where one member of parliament was to be chosen, and none is expected for several weeks because of the lack of transportation in snow bound districts. The contestants conducted a dog sled campaign.

A Modern Newspaper

SOME idea of the speed and efficiency attained in publishing a modern newspaper is given in the handling of President Warren G. Harding's message to congress Tuesday.

The President addressed congress around the noon hour. As soon as it was released, The Associated Press cleared its wires of all other matter and commenced sending it to its numerous newspaper clients. The Times receiving it over its leased wire, had the message edited, set up on the linotype machines, proven, read, corrected and published in its first edition thirty minutes after the last word of the long message had

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 7.—(By the Associated Press)—The Far Eastern committee of the Washington conference, resuming its sessions today after a three day recess, adopted a resolution providing for the neutrality of China in case of a war in which China is not a party.

This resolution it was said, covered point No. 8 of China's "bill of rights." The committee also adopted the Root resolution drafted in sub-committee concerning the wireless installations of foreigners on Chinese soil. The question of Japanese troops in Manchuria came up for discussion and it was understood Japanese members made a statement to the committee on the subject.

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Resolutions insuring the territorial integrity of China and providing for use of wireless stations in China were adopted unanimously today by the nine powers committee on Pacific and Far Eastern questions.

The committee in executive session also discussed further China's requests for removal of foreign troops and for abandonment of leased territory in China, but deferred action on these questions until tomorrow.

The resolution with respect to territorial integrity adopted today provides that the powers shall observe in the future the territorial integrity of China and also declares that foreign wireless stations in China shall be used only for official messages and not for commercial purposes.

Used Tweezers To Remove His Mustache

TIFFIN, O., Dec. 7.—Five Heidelberg University sophomores and one junior were suspended indefinitely late yesterday by the faculty, in approving recommendations of the students senate, as punishment for the using of a pair of tweezers to remove the mustache from the lip of Frederick Neff, freshman, during a hazing recently. A sophomore and ten freshmen were suspended for one week and placed on probation for the semester because they were onlookers.

FINED FOR HAVING STILL
TIFFIN, O., Dec. 7.—Edward Marks, wealthy Tiffin business man, was fined $1,000 each on two liquor law violation charges by Judge Gliding here late yesterday as a result of a raid on his basement, where three stills were found, it is alleged. Federal agents declare it to be the most complete plant for the manufacture of illicit liquor ever found in the state. In addition to the stills prohibition agents confiscated 80 gallons of whiskey and a large quantity of mash.

TROOPS ARE CALLED OUT IN PACKERS' STRIKE

CHICAGO, December 7.—(By the Associated Press)—The strike of union packing house employees in the larger centers outside of Chicago took on more serious proportions today as the third day of the strike began.

Union leaders insist that the strike is "100 per cent effective," while the packers, although admitting work is hampered in some quarters, say that production has been but slightly affected.

Four hundred national guardsmen patrolled the South St. Paul packing district today, having been ordered out after Adjutant General W. K. Thibault said the pickets at the Armour plant failed to keep their promise to permit employees to enter the plant.

Mayor Burton, of Kansas City, ordered all pickets off the streets, saying they would not only be arrested at the yards, but anywhere on the streets, in accordance with the Kansas law forbidding picketing.

Greater forces were made by police in Fort Worth, Texas, today to control the situation, following the serious wounding yesterday of three men. Two alleged strikers were shot by a negro when they attempted to stop him from boarding a car and the negro was beaten by a crowd.

Little disorder was reported from the strike in Omaha and no change in conditions has been reported from East St. Louis, Ill., or St. Joseph, Mo., but many additional employees remained away from the Chicago plants Tuesday.

Arrested For Procter Robbery

CINCINNATI, O., December 7.—Four men arrested late yesterday in connection with the robbery of jewelry valued at more than $50,000, of the home of Colonel William Cooper Procter here on November 28, last, were taken before Mayor Ralph Ruggan, of Cincinnati, today and arraigned on a charge of robbery.

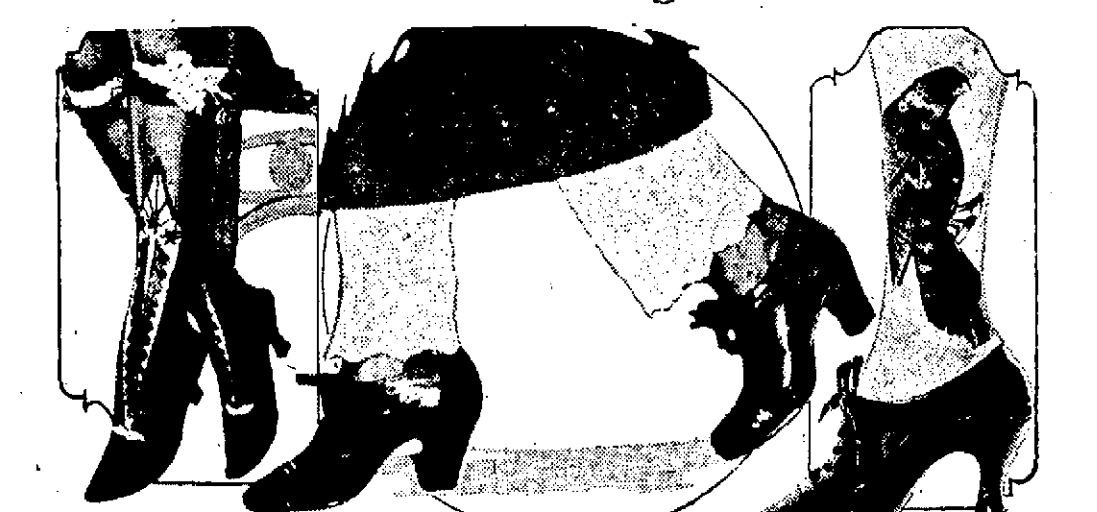

Acting on information given them by one suspect, detectives arrested Elmo Crow, a negro at her home, and recovered two pins, one a pearl brooch, the other a larger and set with diamonds.

Each of the four men made statements to the Cincinnati police before they were taken to Glendale, a suburb of Cincinnati, where Colonel Procter lives. Two of the men, Peter Volker, alias Volker, and Victor Ballou, white, were arrested in Dayton, Ohio. Jonas Shropshire and Will Lee, negroes, were arrested in Cincinnati. Volker, 40 years old, formerly was a saloon keeper of Glendale. Ballou, 40, gave his home as Dighton, Kansas. The negroes said they lived in Cincinnati.

Ballou, 40, gave his home as Dighton, Kansas. The negroes said they lived in Cincinnati. The Dayton detectives brought to Cincinnati approximately 30 articles of jewelry, but of these only 31 articles were identified as belonging to the group of 35 pieces that were taken from the Procter home. Mrs. Procter will be asked to look at the jewelry.

Short Skirts Or Long? That Causes Fashion War Among Paris Modistes

PARIS, Dec. 7.—The "Next War" has come!

Already Paris is in the thick of it and it's going to embroil the whole world.

Who's fighting?

The dressmakers on one side and the stocking makers on the other. What's it all about?

Well, the dressmakers insist they're going to be longer and the stocking makers insist they're going to be shorter—skirts, of course.

Trouble started when the dressmakers got out new skirt patterns which reached midway between the knee and the ankle.

Secretly, "is said, they were planning to increase the length gradually until skirts reached the sidewalks again.

Then the stocking makers started a counter-offensive. As ammunition they're using all kinds of hosiery novelties.

For instance, stockings decorated with birds, dragon flies, butterflies and flowers have been introduced. And new openwork styles have been brought out.

And for the modest maiden who wants to wear a short skirt and conceal her ankles at the same time they've devised ankle rolls, an adaptation of the pantalo.

GOVERNMENT IN GUATEMALA IS OVERTURNED

GUATEMALA CITY, GUATEMALA, December 7.—(By the Associated Press)—The government of President Carlos Herrera was overthrown at midnight Monday after fighting in several quarters. The president surrendered his powers to a provisional government headed by General Jose Maria Lima, General Ordozua and Miguel Larraz, former under secretary of war.

The provisional government is said to have imprisoned Foreign Minister Luis Aguirre, Finance Minister Emilio Escamilla, Vice President Zelaya, the president of the congress, Rafael Puot, and various members of the Unionist party.

The casualties came as the result of resistance to the revolutionists by the city police. The country was tranquil today.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Carlos Herrera, whose government was overthrown in Guatemala in a revolution which began Monday midnight, was reported in advices to American officials today to be a prisoner in his residence. Members of the Herrera cabinet, the advices said, were being held in the military prison.

About a dozen persons were killed in the revolution, the official advices received here today said, and many have been arrested. The Guatemalan capital was reported quiet at the time the dispatches were filed yesterday. The revolution began about Monday midnight and was accomplished by five a. m. Tuesday, the advices added.

The Guatemalan legation here had received no word of the revolt up to 11 o'clock today. Persons here in close touch with conditions in Guatemala, but outside official circles, said the revolt was no surprise, as the liberal party, which is believed here to have brought about the revolution, long has been opposed to the Herrera government, particularly in its action in adopting the pact by which Guatemala entered the recently created Central American Federation. Adoption of the pact, liberal leaders claimed, was unconstitutional, as there was not present a quorum when the Guatemalan legislature ratified the treaty.

The same persons were of the opinion that the first immediate effect of the revolution would be disruption of the present federation and the freeing from prison of Estrada Cabrera, former president, though it was believed no effort would be made to restore Cabrera to power.

AUSTRIAN SURGEON TO RETURN

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Dr. Adolph Lorenz, famous Austrian surgeon, announced today that in view of opposition to his professional activities in this country from the medical profession, he would discontinue further free clinics and return to Vienna as soon as possible.

He made the announcement at the office of Health Commissioner Copeland, where he went to examine 75 crippled children.

Dr. Lorenz expressed his decision in the following statement:

"In view of the widespread and great opposition to my professional activities in this country from the ranks of the medical profession, which I had hoped to cooperate, I feel I must discontinue all my plans and return to my beloved Vienna."

"I harbor no malice against the American profession and hope they will soon reconsider and accept the proffered hand of friendship with their Austrian brethren. If once the ice is broken the current will do the rest and in the near future a reconciliation must take place anyhow."

"First my great mission is to thank the people for all they have done for starving little children of Vienna. I did not fail in this. I endeavored to continue the profession, but failed. I made super-human efforts. I tried in vain. I am sorry I failed."

Dr. Copeland said to Dr. Lorenz: "We have in America a type of citizen we call 'damn goods.' Don't be disturbed by them."

Dr. Lorenz replied: "I have done what I could with a clear conscience, and a good heart. I will continue if God assists me."

Dr. Copeland pleaded with the surgeon to give up his decision to return to Vienna. A moment later when asked whether he would change his mind and continue working in this country, Dr. Lorenz said:

"I might, I might."

BERLIN, December 7.—(By the Associated Press)—The bodies of only thirteen of the more than one hundred persons killed in the explosion yesterday at the Nobel dynamite works at Saarbrücken, Rhineland Prussia, have been recovered, according to the latest reports received here. The number of injured has not been ascertained.

The explosion, which occurred in an oil tank, destroyed the greater part of the factory. Houses in the neighborhood suffered badly, roofs being blown off and the walls collapsing. Fire which started in the ruins spread to the surrounding forests.

P A C T NOT ALLIANCE OR TECHNICAL ENTENTE

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 7.—(By the Associated Press)—The four power agreement being considered by the United States, Great Britain, Japan and France, it was learned today from official American sources, would be an agreement for joint consultation on any matters affecting interests of those nations in the Pacific islands and not an alliance or technical entente.

The agreement is in process of being reduced to treaty form, it was said, and if accepted it is to be submitted to the senate.

The proposed undertaking is designed to do away with the Anglo-Japanese alliance and proposals have gone to Japan for renunciation of that alliance if the new agreement should be consummated.

As now under negotiation the agreement is to be limited to the Pacific islands. Under the tentative proposals each of the powers agree to consult each other before going to war on any differences that might arise relating to those islands.

The agreement, American officials said, would not deal with fortifications in the Pacific nor with questions relating to the island of Yap. Neither would it deal with any matters affecting China, but only those relating to islands of the Pacific.

The questions at issue between the United States and Japan relating to cable facilities and other matters affecting the island of Yap are to be dealt with in a separate treaty, which was said to be near completion.

The proposed four power agreement to deal with the Pacific islands is said to have already been given approval in principle by British representatives at the Washington conference.

The substance of the proposed treaty, it was said, has been called to Tokyo and Paris. The formal responses of the British, Japanese and French governments still remain to be received, however.

The opinion in American quarters was hopeful for final negotiation of the new treaty.

The American delegates had another meeting early today and it was reported discussed at length the situation relating to the four party agreement. This, it was said, was regarded in American quarters as a separate proceeding from the American proposals for limitation of naval armament, but it was expected that an accord on both the Pacific islands treaty and the naval program might be reached almost simultaneously.

Some formal and official expression from the American delegation was in prospect.

In American circles it was said that a full understanding of the proposed agreement, with the official statement that an alliance or even an entente was not the aim, would remove much of the criticism which already has developed in some quarters. All four of the American delegates were reported as favoring the four power agreement.

One American official said that he had no doubt that when the agreement was fully understood that it would meet U. S. bipartisan support upon being submitted to the senate. Those who have advocated American entrance to the League of Nations, it was said, would be consistent in giving their support to the new proposed agreement.

HARDING'S ADDRESS REMARKABLE IN MANY PHASES

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—President Harding's address to Congress is in many respects one of the most remarkable documents ever sent by the executive to the legislative branch of the government, remarkable for the many significant circumstances which have made necessary an appeal for the solidarity of political parties in America as well as the plea for more executive power with the promise that it will be promptly exercised.

Mr. Harding didn't mention the Republican party nor did he make reference to the "Agricultural bloc" which threatens to become an insurgent movement unlike the famous revolt which led to the Taft-Roosevelt split in 1912. The fact that the President devoted the very beginning of his address to a plea for party harmony is significant. It is due to the tendency of the Agricultural west and south to unite as against the manufacturing east, undermining the hold which Democratic as well as Republican leaders have hitherto had upon their respective followers of the same political party in Congress. President Harding has seen a coalition of Democrats and Republicans become so powerful as to force the Republican majority to accept tax revision bill for which Mr. Harding, with characteristic frankness, now says he would be insincere if he accepted responsibility. "It would suggest insincerity," says Mr. Harding. "If I expressed complete agreement with every expression recorded in your roll calls, and a sentence further the President tells what is in his mind when he adds:

"Later on, when other problems are solved I shall make some recommendations about national consideration of our tax problem."

This is the first public indication that Mr. Harding isn't satisfied with the tax bill which Congress passed and he signed. There is of course, a renewed discussion of a sales tax as a new method of taxation altogether but Mr. Harding's address to Congress is the outgrowth of executive discontent, which has been known on the inside for several weeks and which has just come to a head in his message.

The President feels deeply on the subject of the "Agricultural bloc" and the way it exerts its influence in the making of the tax bill and here is his rebuke:

"I believe the political party in power should assume responsibility, determine upon policies in the conference which summarizes executive and legislative action, and then strive for achievement through adherence to the accepted policy."

THE BEST MADE Bicycles AT GLOCKNER'S Gay and Gallia

or "to dictate" to Congress but his message contains the following requests for more authority and power to the executive branch is now possessed. FIRST—The right to negotiate with foreign governments concerning the funding of war debts. Mr. Harding promises that he will submit the agreement reached to Congress but must not be hindered by Congress during the negotiations.

SECOND—The right to ignore those provisions of the Merchant Marine Act of 1920 passed by a previous Republican Congress which requires the United States to denounce certain treaties that conflict with the authority of our government to grant reduced duties on imports carried to our shores in vessels flying the American flag.

THIRD—"The right of the executive to handle the 'penumbral' tariff law when it is passed so that rates may be adjusted to meet unusual and changing conditions which cannot be accurately anticipated."

Fourth—The right to have a controversy over each one of these requests. Already Congress has shown a tendency to look at the grant of power in the first case. Contentment over the second has been going on for several months.

The attitude of Congress on the third point has not yet crystallized though the advocates of high production see in it a menace to the permanency of the rates which may be granted them. The whole thing will afford a test of Mr. Harding's influence with Congress. His political friends are predicting

Officials Search For New Clues

After visiting the scene on Dry Run, where the unidentified man was murdered last Saturday night, Sheriff Ricker and Deputy Sheriff Frank Bennett admitted Wednesday that they have not been able to work up the remotest clue. It is not believed that one will be obtained until the man's body is identified in the Lynn mortuary. Officials say that if the man's name was known and with whom he had been associating they would have something to work on but as it is they are in the dark.

A man who said his name is Emmett Burkle and who gave his age as 52 was released from the Waverly jail this morning by Sheriff Chambers McClary, after he and other officials were convinced that he had nothing to do with the wanton murder. Burkle admitted he was here last Sunday and saw the dead man. Since then he has done considerable talking about it, and that is why he was arrested at Sunfish, Pike county, last evening. On his way to Pike county he stopped in Lucasville, where he is supposed to have said that he knew the man who killed the slain man. When asked about this Burkle denied he had made any statement of this character, but admitted that he had speculated considerably on the murder. He says his home is near Haverhill.

Officials are unshaken in their belief that the dead man was lured to Dry Run from Market street and upended for his money. They are trying to work up a real clue in the West End or on the West Side. It is known that one West Side man is being watched closely as it is believed that he may know something about the murder, when the dead man left Market street and what his mission was up Dry Run.

A local policeman insists that he saw this man in the city last Saturday wearing the same hat that was picked up near the dead man when found on Dry Run. Coroner Hendrickson has this hat in his possession.

The slain man spent three or four days in the West End last week and there is no doubt that what he confided into newly-made friends that he had considerable money on his person. The fact that a luscious peg was found among his effects is proof, officials say, that he was a corn cutter.

Sheriff Ricker, who lost no time in getting on the job as soon as he returned from the West, believes that the man was lured away from Market street and is working along this line. Other officials concur in this opinion and a real clue may lead to an arrest at any time.

The body of the dead man remains unidentified in the Lynn mortuary. Hundreds of people from all parts of the city and county continue to view the body but it has not been identified. Many express the belief that they had seen the man before, but none can recall his name.

Derrick Stevens of 1112 Findlay street thought the man might be his brother, Michael Stevens, but knew differently as soon as he learned the dead man had no false teeth. So it is with hundreds of other clues. One man from the West Side positively identified the man and was leaving the morgue when he returned and asked one question. When answered in a negative sense he said it was not the man he thought. Many women have also viewed the body, but they can throw no light on its identity. Residents from Greenup, Russell, South Portsmouth, Quincy, St. Paul, Garrison, Firebrick and Vanceburg have called.

Officials declared today they would not slacken their speed in the case and may at any time strike a scent that may lead to the apprehension of the guilty persons. They are agreed that two men are guilty of the heinous crime, as one man held the victim while the other slashed his throat. Sheriff Ricker today started a thorough and systematic investigation, which he believes will eventually result in the unraveling of the murder mystery.

The accident occurred during a heavy fog which hung over the city. The car which crashed into the rear end of the other car was a double-header, carrying employees of the General Motors Research Company to their work at the plant in Moraine City, south of town.

Burns May Take Eddie Roush's Job

BUFFALO, Dec. 7.—Judge K. M. Landis dropped in to visit the minor league magnates at work in annual meeting here today. He will be the speaker at a dinner tonight given by the local committee to delegates attending the 21st annual meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

The arrival of the commissioner and the deal between the New York Giants and the Cincinnati Reds by which Henne Groh will become a member of the New York team next season divided interest among baseball men. Why We Are Catholics

We are Catholics because we are Americans, natives of the soil. As Americans, more than others, have abundant reasons for being Catholics. Columbus himself was a Catholic; it was his staunch, unflinching allegiance to his Catholic faith that made it possible for him to be introduced to his royal Catholic patrons, who enabled him to set out on his unparalleled voyage of discovery. The primary scope of the great navigator was to propagate the Catholic faith. It was Catholic money, furnished by the Catholic Church, that fitted and fitted out his sailing vessels.

No Game With The Dallas Team

WASHINGTON, PENN., Dec. 7.—(By Associated Press.)—The Washington and Jefferson college football team, which has accepted an invitation to play at the Tournament of Roses at Pasadena, California, January 2, has no game scheduled for that date at Dallas, Texas, according to R. M. Murphy, athletic director of W. and J. Commenting today on the report from Los Angeles that the University of California officials would withhold decision as to whether the Pacific coast gridlers would meet W. and J. until the latter team cancelled the Dallas engagement, Mr. Murphy declared that the Presidents had no game scheduled at Dallas and that they would not play football again until they take the field at Pasadena.

Mr. Murphy explained that before W. and J. received the invitation from the Tournament of Roses officials, a southern college asked the Presidents to go to Dallas and meet the winner of the Southern Conference football race. Washington and Jefferson officials, he said, forwarded terms for such a game to Dallas, but they were unacceptable, and the negotiations ended.

"Dead Broke"

The service at the Grandview Avenue Christian church last night was well attended. Rev. O. H. Gast spoke on the subject "Dead Broke." He chose as his text Luke, 16:19, 31, the Parable of the Rich Man and Lazarus. He told simply the story that is set forth in the parable, and contrasted the two men. The rich man had everything that he wanted while he lived a life of luxury in this world, but when he came to the throne of God after he had died, he was "Dead Broke," his pockets turned inside out, could produce not a thing to admit him to the Kingdom of Heaven. His worldly riches were of no avail, when he stood in the place where all men are equal. Lazarus, the poor man who begged crumbs from the table of the rich man, died and when he was called he was taken into Abraham's bosom, as a reward for his life on earth, where he was poor in money but rich in good deeds.

The subject tonight will be "Warning—Admission." There will be special music at tonight's services.

The meetings will be held every night, and everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Offer Seven Year Old Boy As Witness

YOUNGSTOWN, O., December 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—During the trial of Rodney Hostler for the first degree murder in connection with the killing of Isadore Waznek, during a robbery, the state offered Alexander Drazkiewicz, aged 7, as a witness to tell of finding revolvers and a flashlight under a car after the crime.

"Do you know what you are supposed to do here?" the judge asked the boy.

"Yes, sir," he replied. "Tell the truth."

"Do you know what will happen to you if you don't tell the truth?"

A minute's hesitation.

Then the answer came:

"Yes, sir. I'll go to hell."

Whereupon the youngest witness ever to testify in a Mahoning county murder trial, was admitted to the stand.

Glynn Pays Tribute To Lloyd George

ALBANY, N. Y., December 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Former Governor Martin H. Glynn, of Albany, through whom Prime Minister Lloyd George invited Eamon DeValera to the negotiations that finally led to an agreement for settlement of the Irish question, said today that the world owed Lloyd George a debt of gratitude.

"Lloyd George has settled a problem that has baffled statesmen for seven hundred years," said Mr. Glynn. DANGER IN LACK OF RED CELLS

Weakened Blood a Debility Gude's Pepto-Mangan Overcomes

Blood becomes feeble when there is a lack of red blood cells. Fatigue always causes the blood to collect waste matter from all parts of the body. In normal health, after a good sleep and a good nourishing meal the blood throws off the poisons and is restored to its normal condition. But when sleep is neglected and the waste matter from fatigue and overwork are not thrown off, the blood becomes weak and poisonous waste matter takes the place of red cells. Faces become pale, physical strength weakens, appetite is poor, and a phase of debility develops. Gude's Pepto-Mangan taken steadily for a while makes blood rich and red. The red cells carry life-giving oxygen to the entire system and drive off the poisonous waste matter. Druggists sell Gude's Pepto-Mangan in liquid or tablet form. Take only the genuine, with the name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" on the package. Advertisement.

Prospective Candidates Busy

The Scioto County Republican club held its last meeting of the year at its quarters in the club rooms in the Masonic Temple Tuesday night. President Fred B. Winter presided and there was a good attendance.

The session was devoted principally to disposing of all old business so as to start the new year with a clean slate and plans were discussed for the campaign next fall and some prospective candidates for county offices were mentioned.

Candidates for sheriff were very much in evidence at the meeting, several of the persons including former Deputy Sheriff and Municipal Court Clerk Harry Dunham, Frank Bennett, present deputy, and Bert Brant being present and expressed a desire to hold down Sheriff Ricker's job. Eliza Carter, former deputy sheriff of Jefferson township, let it be known that he is a candidate for the seat of Jacob Fisher on the commissioner's board. It is persistently rumored that City Solicitor S. A. Skelton and Attorney Russell McCurdy will go to the mat in a struggle to win the prosecuting attorney nomination and it is said John W. Hall, present deputy, will have no opposition for clerk of courts. Henry Kuel, of course, will not be opposed for a re-nomination as treasurer. Russell Ketter, present deputy, has let it be known he will be a candidate to succeed his chief as boss of the recorder's office.

Letters From Our Readers

Editor Times:
Please allow me space to express my views in regard to the appealing of the Christian people to sign a petition that the death sentence of Roy Chamblin be commuted to life imprisonment. I notice that both sides try to prove their views are sincere in their views. First let us consider the principal points set out in the letter appearing in Saturday's Times and signed F. O. R. Justice. In the first part of the letter the question was asked, what could Roy Chamblin do if he would repent and could spend his life in prison? I would say that it would be just as good a place for a Christian to let his light shine as any place on this continent, or do we harbor the thought that all people behind the bars have transgressed the laws, and are beyond redemption and should be killed. I should say not, for that would be entirely different from God's plans. We have an example of what a Christian did in prison, see Acts 16:30 to 35. A Christian's influence counts for something, no matter where they be. The writer refers us to Acts 5th chapter, to find things of a different nature. I most assuredly agree with him on this point, for this man and his wife, that is spoken of, were not condemned by the laws of the land, neither were they put to death by the people, but they received their just reward from God for lying to the Holy Ghost, Acts 5:5. He also says that Chamblin has had twenty-seven years of society's trust. I will ask what did society do in these twenty-seven years to induce Chamblin to live a Christian life, and forsake the life that he led before? It looks as though some people think our boys and girls that grow up neglected and do not have the proper training, if they should transgress the laws of the land that they should be put to death. It is true that the law says that he must be put to death, but is this in accordance to God's divine plans? See what God says about it in Exodus 20:13. Another statement made in the letter was true beyond doubt, if the Bible was followed more closely in its teachings there would be less crime. I will say further if the teachings of the Bible were followed, the electric chair and its equipment would be sold for scrap. The writer also refers to the Mosaic law, upon which he says our laws are based. I know what part of our law he alludes to. You will find it in Exodus 21:12. See if the Mosaic law was not fulfilled by Christ years ago; see Matt. 5:17. Now, let us see if we should be living under the Mosaic law, see Romans 6:14. No, Christ didn't condemn the woman that was brought before him as mentioned, John 8:5, although the law of Moses said she should be stoned.

Now, in the face of God, can we say that we are Christians and not show the mercy that Christ did? I suppose if a great many of the professors of Christianity would have been in Christ's place when arrested, and had the power that He had (Matt. 26:53) would have killed the whole mob. We will all answer to God some day for the way we have lived, so let us so live that our hands may be clean from the blood of our fellow man. For myself I could not say that I was a Christian and refuse to sign the petition to commute the death sentence of Roy Chamblin to life imprisonment.

GRACE FITZER.

Dear Editor:
I have read quite a number of letters from the readers concerning the fate of Roy Chamblin. I would like your opinion on an entirely different subject.

Do you think that a high school boy should be punished by a whipping? No boy of mine has yet been whipped but I know of several who have been. One, as I understand, went to sleep in class. No one knows but that the boy may have been ill. Others were punished for minor offenses. That sort of punishment might have been justified if the boys had been very bad but even then I think the father should do the whipping.

I wish you would publish my letter so the people will know what is going on in the school.

I am certain that the majority of the mothers will stand by me in my plea for a better and more civilized method of punishment.

Yours very truly,
A READER.

JAPS ACCEPTANCE HINGES ON POWERS TERMS ON FAR EAST FORTIFICATION

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Acceptance by the Japanese government of the American proposals for naval ratio now hinges on the ability of the powers to reach an agreement for the limitation of fortifications in the Far East, according to the British view as expressed today.

It was said "the Japanese might be willing to accept the 5-5-3 ratio on receiving assurances in certain respects," and it was further explained "that these assurances" applied to the reduction of existing fortifications in the western Pacific which might be regarded a vantage points from which offensive naval attacks might be launched against Japan.

The British view seemed to be that although Hawaii might properly be regarded as a defensive outpost for the west coast of the United States, the same logic would not apply to the island of Guam nor even the Philippines, more than four thousand miles from the American main land.

It was asserted that if Great Britain were to fortify strongly some place in continental Japan that a country might be expected to demand a larger naval ratio, meaning more capital ships, not for offensive purposes, but to repel possible attacks emerging

Enjoins Pouring Out Beer

When Is Horse Sound? Court Must Decide

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Whether Playfellow, full brother of Alan O'War, the famous race horse, was a "cribler" and a "wind sucker" before being sold last summer for $100,000 or acquired these objectionable habits afterward, came up for decision today in the supreme court in Brooklyn.

The question, which has focused widespread interest among racing men was to be decided before Justice Callaghan in the suit of Harry F. Sinclair against James F. Johnson, owner of the Quincey stables, to recover the amount of the purchase price.

Mr. Sinclair alleges that he bought Playfellow under the warranty by his former owner that the animal was "sound in wind and limb." The court will be asked among other points to determine if the defects discovered constitute such unsoundness.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 7.—A jury to try Ernest W. An odd feature was the acceptance of Henry Riesch, who is totally blind, as a juror. The jury, including Riesch, went to the scene of the hold-up to "see" the surroundings. It is believed he is the first sightless man to serve as a juror in this county.

MURDER CASE REACHES PEAK
LOS ANGELES, CAL., December 7.—(By the Associated Press)—The state's case against Arthur C. Burch, on trial for the murder of J. Edgar Kennedy, has reached its "peak" in the opinion of attaches of the court where the presentation of evidence against Burch was continued today.

The "peak" it was declared, was reached with the introduction of forty-six letters alleged to have been written to Kennedy by Mrs. Madalene Kennedy, jointly indicted with Burch.

The prosecution, however, has still to present evidence tending to connect Burch with the actual shooting of Kennedy and this, it is conceded, is principally a circumstantial nature.

Says Uncle Eben.
"If experience was so nuff a good teacher," said Uncle Eben, "a lot of folks would uv quit bettin' on de horses years ago."

And all he could say, was — "Well, good-bye, Jim—take keer of yourself"

THE POET, Riley, has told the story beautifully and well—how the old-fashioned father sent the boy out into the world. A heart full of affection and hope spoke only these words: "Well, good-bye, Jim; take keer of yourself."

Enough to say, enough to hope for, enough to do—take care of yourself—and there's the foundation of safety, the promise of success.

And how easy a thing to fail in! For instance, the common practice of coffee or tea-drinking administers to the system a dosing of drug whose harm has been pointed out repeatedly by medical men, sometimes in alarming terms—and whose effect is very commonly found in over-excited nerves, sleeplessness, irritability, indigestion, high blood pressure—loss of efficiency; failure to "get on."

The drug, caffeine in coffee and then in tea, acts as a whip upon the nerves. Over-whipped nerves may run away, or break down,—like an over-whipped horse.

Thousands of people have found for themselves that they cannot safely drink coffee or tea. Some have had the news broken to them by their physicians, and many are complaining about symptoms of nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of alertness during business hours, and wondering what the cause may be—when the cause probably is tea or coffee. A great many people who know they cannot safely drink coffee at night still hope they can go on with it at other times, and dodge the damage.

How easy it is to fail to take care—and how hard the consequences usually are!

A quarter of a century ago Postum brought to the world's dining table that kindest wish of friendship and good will: "Take care of yourself." Cheerfully, pleasantly, happily, Postum has brought the message and shown the way to increasing thousands in every land—"Take care of yourself."

Postum is a pure cereal beverage, a cup of kindness from Nature's smiling grain fields—a table drink of charm without harm.

There's no drug in Postum—but plenty of satisfaction and comfort. Postum can be enjoyed by every member of the family—no need to draw the danger line and warn away the children as is usually thought necessary with coffee and tea. And no need to fear that Postum with the evening meal will rob the night of sleep—not Postum!

Postum is a friendly drink, always. And it fully satisfies. Those who have tried Postum as a relief from the ills of coffee and tea have kept on with Postum for itself. They have found better sleep, better feeling, better fitness—better health—and they do enjoy the taste of this splendid mealtime drink!

If you are not yet one of the great army of Postum users, you can make the experiment now, without a bit of trouble, and with no sacrifice to taste or comfort. Order Postum from your grocer today, or tell your waiter at the hotel or restaurant to serve it to you. You can get Postum wherever good food and drink are sold or served.

Have Postum prepared according to directions, make the test of its use for ten days, compare your feeling with the old experience—and see whether you want to turn back.

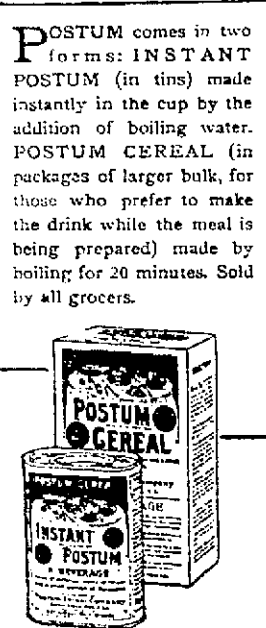

Postum points the way along the sunrise road—away from the risks—and gives you the message in which most of the good wishes of life are summed up—"Take care of yourself."

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—As this is my first letter to you I hope to see it in print soon. I know you must be a wise girl, to give the good advice you do, and I hope you can console me for I think I can't find relief soon. I will go mad. My husband provides all I eat and he owns our own home, and I am thankful for that, but he thinks that the shows or social gatherings are no place for women. Dolly, he won't let me use powder and he wants me to wear my dresses clear down to the ankle. I don't like them so long but I have to wear them below the shoe tops. He hardly ever goes out with me but when he does go he hurts my feelings so that the evening is spoiled. He won't allow us to have any music or a telephone in the house. I never get a magazine and the only papers we get are the Times and Post. I get so lonely that I don't know what to do. As soon as he gets home from work he begins to nag, and there is no reason for this as I always have supper ready to serve. I feel like I could only get out of his sight for awhile I would be happy. We have several children and we all must be in bed every night in the week by eight o'clock. The children don't know what money looks like. I want them to know the value of money but I think they should have a nickel or dime spending money once in awhile. If I keep on like this I am afraid I will go crazy. Please don't tell me to put up with him for the children's sake as I have put up with him just about as long as I can stand it. Please suggest something else I can do?

WORRIED WIFE.
The trouble with you is you "put up" with him too long. You should have started to handle him the day you married him. If you had taken charge of the house, your husband and his money then, you would not be in the fix you are now. I don't think it is too late yet. Tomorrow you should turn the hem of your dress up to where you think it ought to be, then dust a little powder on your nose and see little powder. When night comes put the children to bed at their regular time and sit up yourself until you get good and ready to go to bed. The next day doll up in your short dress, your powdered nose and go out and call on a friend or go down town or to the show or any place just to relieve the monotony. If your husband starts to nag tell him to keep still, that in the future you are going to be the boss and do as you please and go where you please. Don't let him bluff you. He's been trying to run the things for years and made a mess of it, and its your turn now.

Dear Dolly—I am an overcast soldier and I would like to know if I will have to sign up before I get my bonus. I know I am entitled to one but don't know whether I will have to be on the job to get it or not. I am out of work now and want to go away and get work, but don't want to go if I will have to be here to get it. If I hang around until the time comes I will have all the bonus I get used up in board. Please advise me what to do.

If you have a chance to get work in some other city, don't "hang around" here waiting for your bonus. Go to the American Legion office and tell them what you are going to do and leave your name and address with them, or tell them you will send it to them, as soon as you get settled elsewhere, and they will notify you when your turn comes on the bonus list. I don't know as yet how the details are to be worked out, so can't give you any definite information about it.

Mrs. N. Y. Z.—I think it would be better for all concerned to drop the Christmas case from this column. I did not know I was going to "start" something or I would not have printed the letter the other night. If I used yours I would have to run a dozen others along the same line and it is better to quit while the quilting is good. However, I agree with what you said about married men going with single girls and vice versa, but that had nothing to do with the crime. If it had not been that couple, it would have been some one else, and in view of the fact that another brutal murder was committed Saturday night, I think it high time something was done to put a stop to it.

A Reader—Your mother is probably sick or nervous or both and I think you should be patient with her and not do anything to worry her. There have been so many hold-ups and crimes during the past few weeks that she is afraid something will happen to you. Don't leave home and don't make life miserable for your mother. Try and make things as pleasant as possible for all concerned.

Much credit is due the ladies in charge of the all-day "Good Fellowship" missionary session held at Bigelow church Tuesday. CONFESSIONS OF A MOVIE STAR
CHAPTER LIV—AN EXPERIENCE WITH DICK BARNES

My old blue town produced the effect I wanted.

Dick went white at the sight of it. Then he went through the business which the director wanted in a most convincing manner. Dick (the runaway convict) had returned to his home to embrace me (the abused wife). There was an embrace of reconciliation, a kiss of contrition in the scenario, after which I was to fall in a faint.

In the midst of the act, I whispered, "Oh, Jimmy! Jimmy!" with magnificent impudence.

Thereafter, Dick's performance delighted the audience immensely. Although the convict's pursuers battered at the door, Dick could not tear himself from the little woman who had kept her faith in him and whom he never expected to see again. He managed to flee just in the nick of time across the chalked boundary of the set and out of the field of the cameras.

His parting embrace left me assured that for once I had made Dick Barnes own up that he was Jimmy Alcott.

Dick had left the studio by the time I came out of my mock fainting spell. I knew that I wouldn't see him again until we went on location.

At home that night, my mind flashed back to the afternoon's work I perceived, suddenly, that I had not been looking at the scene, as in a frame, when Dick had kissed me. I had forgotten! For once in my acting career, it hadn't occurred to me that a love scene was both silly and distressing!

Then came the reaction. A horrid thought left me lurching. Dick Barnes had scorned me! That was why he had kissed me so.

He believed that I was already engaged to Cissy Sheldon—he had just learned from Barnes—and he believed that I, an engaged girl, could come with him! Could remind him of our one and only summer night of the previous year?

If he could believe that, then he must believe the mysterious hints about the interest McMasters took in my career? A hint which I was repeatedly hearing myself without comprehending.

"A man of his reputation!" Thus people referred to McMasters.

Well, what was his reputation? I hadn't the slightest idea other than that it was of a kind which Dick Barnes and Motherhead did not approve.

Whatever it might be, Dick preferred to believe I had something to do with it. He deliberately tried to think the worst of me.

And thinking so—he had snatched me to his heart and for one tumultuous second he had made me forget that I was on a set and acting a part for my director.

It was all on account of that horrid blue dress. I rushed to my dressing room and threw off its offending pretensions. I never wanted to see the thing again, but unfortunately, since I had done some interiors in it, I would have to put it on again for the scenes to be shot on location.

That evening Cissy took me out in his magnificent new roadster. I was confused and unhappy. It was the first time Motherhead ever had permitted me to go out in the evening unchaperoned.

She must be encouraging Cissy, I decided. But I did not enjoy being alone with Cissy Sheldon. I was constantly thinking how differently I would feel if the roadster were Dick's.

River Route, Which Includes This City, Officially Adopted

Relative to the selection of the river route, which includes Portsmouth in the Atlantic and Pacific Highway, the Cincinnati Enquirer of local interest Wednesday:

Designation of the route of the Atlantic and Pacific Highway through Ohio, which will take in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Portsmouth and Ironton, was announced yesterday by W. C. Culkins, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who was in receipt of a communication from H. A. Russell, of St. Louis, Mo., president of the Atlantic and Pacific Highway Association, authorizing the announcement.

According to Mr. Russell's designation the route will be as follows:

The official line across Ohio to start at the Ohio state line on the Cincinnati-Aurora pike, crossing the river at the Elizabethtown bridge, Dugan Gap road into Cleveland, and the Cleveland-Aurora pike through North Bend, Skelton, Addyston and the edge of Ferabank, then over Price Hill along the Cleveland-Aurora pike to Glenway avenue, over Glenway avenue to Eighth street, Eighth street to Carr street, east on Carr street to Seventh street, east on Seventh street to Race, south on Race to Fourth, Fourth east to Broadway, Broadway to Pearl, Pearl to Eastern avenue, Eastern avenue to Carroll street, Carroll street south to Kellough avenue, east on Kellough avenue to the Water works at California, and on Cincinnati and New Richmond turnpike to New Richmond, and Ohio River pike to Moscow, Point Pleasant, Ohio, Higginsport, Ripley, Aberdeen, Manchester, Wrightsville, Buena Vista, Friendship to Portsmouth, Wheelersburg, Hocking Rock, Ironton, crossing the bridge at Ironton to Russell, Kentucky.

Upon this notification, Mr. Culkins said that he and W. T. Salentine, president of the Ohio State Good Roads Federation, would leave today for Columbus, where they will charter the route with Leon O. Herriot, State Commissioner, as an interstate highway, which will entitle the thoroughfare of $3,700,000 from the Federal aid fund for good roads. Pursuant to these announcements, Mr. Culkins to the Ohio State Good Roads Federation, a resolution for the appointment having been drawn up recently by the federation.

The route chosen is generally known as the Ohio River route, and it is contained, will be of benefit to Cincinnati in that the city will "tap" several more counties for business than another designation would have afforded and more than the present arrangements of pikes afford.

U.S. Joins

The explanation given in American quarters to the negotiations emphasized that it was designed to keep peace in the Pacific by dealing with all matters relating to Pacific islands, but without being complicated by agreements relating to China or territory other than the Pacific islands. Also it was said that the simplicity of the four power agreement, in its single obligation for consultation between the powers before a declaration of war, should win it favor.

The proposed treaty, it was said, has not yet been reduced to written form, but its scope was said to be well understood between the representatives here of the four powers. France, it was said, was being invited to join the agreement because of her possession of islands in the Pacific.

The agreement, according to information from American sources, would not deal with Hawaii nor interfere with further fortification of the Hawaiian Islands.

Fake Paintings Dumped Into U. S. Market

NEW YORK, December 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Liarism in Europe have resulted in the dumping of "literally thousands" of oil paintings and other works of art into the American market, the majority of which have proved to be fakes or copies of masterpieces, in the opinion of Gustavus T. Kirby, of the American Art Gallery. Many of these "artworks" were thought genuine by their European owners, who had inherited them and had never had occasion to examine them until the war took away their wealth. Most of them have been surprised when the fact that they were fakes or copies has been discovered by customs officials on arrival in this country.

SOUTH WEBSTER INSTITUTE OPENS

With a goodly number in attendance the annual Farmers' Institute opened this morning with a session at the South Webster high school auditorium. A session was held this afternoon, starting at 1:30. A meeting tonight, and tomorrow morning and afternoon will conclude the institute.

Walter C. Pierce of Miami county and C. R. Arnold, farm management specialist of Ohio University. The institute was opened with President L. H. Cadot making a few remarks. School pupils furnished the music. Mrs. Pierce talked on "Rural School Problems" and "Gardening and Small Fruit Growing" this morning and afternoon. Dr. Lasher had for his subjects at the first two sessions "Boys and Girls' Clubs" and "Taking

An Invoice of Ourselves and Our Business." Rev. S. E. Elsen and Ernest H. B. Bratton led the discussion this afternoon. JOHN J. KURTZ DIES VERY SUDDENLY

One of the best known residents of Otway and community was claimed by death this morning about six o'clock, when John J. Kurtz, known to his friends in that section of the county as "Jack" Kurtz, passed to the Great Beyond after a short illness of heart trouble. He had been ill for several weeks, but this morning arose and after being up a short time took a walk in a room while his wife went into a bedroom. She had just stepped inside the other room when she heard a noise as if her husband had fallen, and on returning to the room where she left Mr. Kurtz, found him in a dying condition. He only lived a few seconds after his wife reached his side. John J. Kurtz, born in Pennsylvania, was 54 years of age October last. He lived in Brown county for sometime and then moved to the Otway community, where he had resided for a number of years. He had lived in Otway village about ten years.

Mr. Kurtz was married three times. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Nellie Kurtz, and five children, Mrs. Henry Hull of Otway, Mrs. John Hall of this city and John, Frank and Sam Kurtz of this city, and two stepsons, James Henries in the army and Sam Henries in Adams county. The deceased was a Civil War Veteran. He served with the 7th Ohio Cavalry and was captured by the Southern Army. In April, 1862, he was one of several prisoners released from Libby prison, who escaped from the steamer Sultana when it blew up on the Mississippi river. Mr. Kurtz was a member of the Christian Union church at Otway and was a member of a G. A. R. Post.

THOUSANDS ARE SELLING CHRISTMAS SEALS

Several thousand workers are now enlisted in the sale of Christmas Seals in this city and within a few days hundreds more will be at work in the rural districts when the Seals are placed in the hands of the school pupils in the county.

The sale of Seals through school children started yesterday and judging from early reports, the sale by school pupils this year is going to eclipse all previous records. The enthusiasm shown by the school pupils is very encouraging to the business men who have undertaken the direction of the sale of Seals this year. The money realized from the sale of Seals goes to the Ohio Public Health Association in Columbus which organization is fighting tuberculosis in many different ways. Tuberculosis is a plague that should be stamped out and all are asked to do their part in the great fight. One hundred dollars worth of stamps were distributed in each school yesterday. The pupils started to work at once and early this morning, Frank Adams, general chairman of the Seal sale had a request from one school for another $100 worth of Seals. The Seals were supplied and before noon the same school had asked for another $100 worth. Judging from this, the pupils are certainly going to work hard to win first or second prize. First prize of $10 goes to the school having the biggest sale. The $5 prize goes to the school having the second largest sale, the money to be used for playground improvement.

Saturday a meeting of county school teachers will be held at New Boston at the call of County School Superintendent E. O. McCowen, who will organize the rural school teachers for the Seal sale in the country district. Later one or two persons in each village or corporation will be named to look after the sale of Seals there. From the N. & W. offices at East Portsmouth comes a report that every department at the terminals is being organized for the sale there. Each foreman is named chairman of his department and it will be up to him to see that the sale is carried out in a systematic manner. Christmas Seals sale headquarters have been established at the Elks club, where Seals and other supplies may be obtained by workers.

and school districts in this county. The only places not receiving state aid will be Haverhill school district, Green, Valley and Clay townships. The state aid money will not be received until after the first of the year when it will be divided according to townships and school districts. This total amount is a little more than last year.

SOCIETY

Those having tickets for the Zimbalist-Mero Concert to be given in the Columbia theatre next Monday evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Musical, may have them reserved Saturday morning at the Chamber of Commerce. Tickets for the concert may also be obtained at this time.

Mrs. Alice Pettor and party of friends were in the city a few hours today, enroute from New York City to their home in Ashland, Ky.

One of the most successful meetings in the history of the Local Boreans, First Christian church, was the one held last evening at the hospitable home of Mrs. Elizabeth Nolen, 1140 Third street, and which was attended by more than fifty members. The members planned for a great work in 1922 and in this were encouraged by Rev. Charles R. Oakley, who met with the Boreans for the last time. He thanked the members for their loyalty to every organization in the church and Bible School, stating that they never waited on an invitation to do a good work. He stated that the Boreans had most certainly done great things for him personally, and that he would never forget the many little courtesies extended to him throughout his seven years as minister. Rev. Oakley brought tears to the eyes of all present as he spoke of the parting of the ways, and there is no question but he will carry with him to his work in Chicago the hearty good wishes of every member of the class. The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—Mrs. Harry Foster. First Vice President—Mrs. Nell Maylowe. Second Vice President—Mrs. Walter Adams. Secretary—Mrs. E. M. Smith. Assistant Secretary—Mrs. John Alford. Treasurer—Mrs. Leslie Evans. Assistant Treasurer—Mrs. Johnson. The members of the class extended their thanks and appreciation to Mrs. Nell Maylowe, the retiring president, under whose efficient leadership they have accomplished so much, and expressed their regrets at losing such an untiring worker.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE GRANTED PERMISSION TO TEST OWNERS RIGHTS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The Anti-Saloon League, through its counsel, Wayne H. Wheeler, was granted permission by the supreme court today to file a brief in three cases now pending to test the right of an owner to withdraw his residence for his own consumption and legal use liquor he has in storage. Two of the cases come from Maryland and the other from Missouri.

In two of the cases warehouse receipts were purchased after it had become legally impossible to remove the liquor for beverage purposes without a permit and in one the owner failed to remove it during the seven months allowed for that purpose.

The government, in its brief in the cases referred to, "the widespread and reckless violation of the prohibition statutes" and predicted that should it be held possible to withdraw the liquor without a permit from the prohibition office, the large quantities now in storage in warehouses "would be diverted to bootleggers and other violators of the law."

"TO SUCCEED BEYOND FONDEST HOPES" AT ARMS MEET

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—President Harding, convening the annual meeting of the American Red Cross today, told its members that "they might never be called upon again for work" to relieve war suffering on a scale comparable to that of recent years, "because we are going to succeed beyond our fondest hopes" in the armament conference.

heavy duties which devolved upon the chief executive to have the assurance of the farmers of the United States that they will give hearty support to "me in my effort to limit armaments." The callers presented a resolution expressing gratification in the "courage and self-denial of our republic in assuming leadership of the movement to reduce the ever-growing burden of militarism."

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Relief that the armament conference "will demonstrate the wisdom of internationally coming together—nations facing each other and settling problems without resort to arms," was expressed today by President Harding in receiving a large delegation representing the national board of farm organizations. The president told the delegation he did not offer any special merit for calling the conference, but that "my only thought was to do my duty."

The delegation, which was accompanied by a number of members of congress, congratulated Mr. Harding upon the progress of the conference and pledged its complete support to the policies of the American government as enunciated in the conference. "I don't claim any special merit for calling the conference," the president said to his callers when they concluded their addresses. "My only thought was to do my duty. However, it is a happy augury to find not only agriculturists, but also the makers of arms and armaments, men who were naturally expected to have a personal interest in the revenues derived from war, are just as much in favor of limitation as farmers."

"I can not speak of the conference other than to say that I expect very gratifying results from its deliberations. Moreover, this conference will demonstrate the wisdom of internationally coming together, nations facing each other and settling problems without resort to arms. It is exceedingly heartening during all of the

Promise Of Silver Loving Cups Create Interest In Poultry Ranks

An unusual amount of interest is being manifested in the big show to be staged at Hor's Hall next week beginning Monday, by the Portsmouth Poultry and Pet Stock Association. Entries are coming in so rapidly that the promoters have found it necessary to arrange for the securing of several additional coops in which to display the chickens. The members are working early and late to make the show a success, and trust the people of Portsmouth will be liberal in their patronage. The association is not expecting to make any money out of the venture—their only object is to encourage the raising of thoroughbred stock. There are many fanners in Portsmouth and vicinity who have as fine chickens as can be produced and those who patronize the show are assured of their money's worth. Fine pigeons, rabbits, etc. will be shown as well, and there is quite a rivalry as to who will carry off the red and blue ribbons, denoting first and second prizes, and which will be donated by the Chamber of Commerce.

There was much rejoicing among the membership when it became known Wednesday that the Daily Times and Morning Sun will present loving cups for the 1922 show. These cups will be beautiful and well worth contesting for. They will have to be won three times in succession to become the property of the winner, and until that time will be regarded as property of the Association. Other concerns are expected to follow the footsteps of the Times and Sun and when the 1922 show rolls around the fanners will have something worth striving for. The offer of the Times and Sun has created intense interest among members, and they will redouble their efforts to make the 1922 show a real success. The members hope by the time next December rolls around they will be able to have a more commodious place in which to hold their show for there will be entries from all over this part of the country, and much larger quarters will be an absolute necessity.

Lipstick War Carried To Court

Leaders In The "Lipstick War"

Girl Student Is Suing

Demand Right To Attend Arkansas School Though She Powders Her Face

By NEA Service

KNOX, Ark., Dec. 6.—The lipstick comes to trial in the circuit court of Clay county Dec. 10.

The law will decide just how much cosmetics a young woman may wear and still be within the bounds of propriety.

This is the case of Miss Pearl Pugsley against School District No. 11 of the village of Knobel.

Miss Pugsley, who is seventeen, was expelled from high school because she refused to wash cosmetics from her face. She is suing for reinstatement.

"Lipstick Rule No. 3" Cause of Trouble

The cause of it all is "Lipstick Rule No. 3" which was issued by the school board consisting of three Knobel business men. The rule says:

"The wearing of transparent hosiery, low-necked dresses, and any style of clothing tending to immodesty in dress, or the use of face powder or cosmetics, is prohibited."

It was announced at the opening of school last September, by the senior member of the board, who had instructed Principal N. E. Hicks in the presence of the girl students to compel them either to comply with the rule or to go home.

Hicks, who is also pastor of the Disciples of Christ Church at Knobel, gave the girls a quick appraisal and said: "I see nothing wrong with you young ladies today. But powder and cosmetics have interfered seriously with school work in past year. The rule shall be enforced."

Hicks Investigates Girls' Complexions

Miss Pugsley, here continues the story:

"I powder my face a bit every day just to make it feel better. But I don't use paint or lipstick. However, one morning Mr. Hicks approached one of my schoolmates on the play ground and said to her:

"Have you painted on your cheeks?" "She said not. But when school was in session, Mr. Hicks asked her again. Then she said she had some powder on her face, and asked if that, too, was under the ban."

"Mr. Hicks said it was and told her to stop powdering."

"With that I arose and said, 'Mr. Hicks, if powder is against the rule, I suppose I must stop powdering, too.'"

"A little girl also announced she was wearing powder."

Girls are Ordered to Wash Powder Off

"Mr. Hicks told us to go to the wash basin and clean off the powder, or go home. One girl washed, two went home. I was one of them."

"But on my way home I stopped at a lawyer's office and let him see just how I looked."

Then the suit was started, first by Miss Pugsley's father, a merchant. He filed, so the case was continued by her mother, who also conducts the Pugsley store.

The school board is not in complete accord on the question of "How much powder or paint?" While Chairman J. R. McCoy announced the rule, Secretary B. A. Scott says: "We admit a little powder doesn't hurt anything, but when they get started they don't know when to stop."

The junior member of the board, P. J. Schmeier, goes further and says: "Even we old bucks like to see a woman look her best, and we don't object to powdering up within the bounds of decency."

But on this point the board stands together: "A rule is a rule, and must be obeyed." And it contends the state law gives it full authority to pass such a rule as the one in question and enforce it according to its own interpretation.

"But," says J. N. Moore, Miss Pugsley's attorney, "the school board must permit my client to return to school or it must prove that she was indelibly powdered. That means it must establish how much powder a woman may wear, how much paint and lipstick she may use, and still remain within the bounds of propriety."

The "lipstick war" has divided the town. The board has the teachers on its side, those of Knobel and surrounding towns recently having passed resolutions commending the board's attitude.

But others, including foremost citizens, side with Miss Pugsley. "And I'll win, I'm sure," she says. "Why, really, I'm fighting—right here in this little Arkansas town where we have only one picture show a week and no other amusements—a battle for freedom of women everywhere."

"What rights has a woman in life, if she can't use a little powder?"

With the ice broken by Oberlin, sport followers said today they believed it would not be long until games has informed Coach Estes, of Wooster college, by letter that Oberlin will not include Wooster on its football schedule next fall because Oberlin is scheduled more southern Ohio teams.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 7.—News from Wooster that Oberlin will not meet Wooster on the gridiron next fall because Oberlin is scheduled more southern Ohio teams proved of considerable interest in Ohio Conference football circles today.

Available information does not make certain whether there is a possibility of a game between Oberlin and Miami's conference football leaders this year, but such a gridiron game is considered likely.

For several years there has been considerable agitation looking to a closer sport relation between Ohio Conference schools in the northern and southern sections of the state. Followers of the Ohio Conference have contended that the conference activities were too restricted and regional—that northern Ohio teams were inclined to limit their games to other northern Ohio teams, with a similar situation in the southern portion of the state.

The only boat movement Wednesday was the Tucuma, which passed down-bound for Cincinnati. The Patsy Ann failed to make its usual trip here this week, the steamer being tied up at Pittsburg with boiler trouble.

To Be Tried Again On Murder Charge

POINT PLEASANT, W. VA., Dec. 7.—A writ of capias was issued in the Wirt county circuit court today for the arraignment of W. H. (Holly) Griffith, now serving a third life-term sentence for the murder of Ira Tinsch, of Antiquity, Ohio, imposed upon him after having been sentenced twice previously for two other homicides.

The accusation made in the writ issued today is that of the killing of Constable Doff in 1913. It was for the Doff tragedy that Griffith was originally arrested by C. Ord Thompson, chief of police of Gassaway, W. Va., and it was for the shooting of Thompson at the time of that arrest that Griffith was given his first life-term sentence in Moundsville penitentiary.

Griffith escaped from the penitentiary last January after a portion of the building had been set on fire and Henry Lucas, a fellow-prisoner, fatally injured.

For Lucas' death he was tried and convicted a second time on a murder charge. At the time of the Roush trial, C. E. Hogg, an attorney assisting in the prosecution, publicly remarked in court that Griffith had established a record in escaping the death penalty after his third conviction.

VIM-O-GEN—the Improved Yeast Vitamine Tablets—Clear the Skin—Build Firm Flesh

Scientifically Cultured Yeast

Women who wish to acquire beauty of carriage and figure as well as of the skin and complexion, should surely try taking two VIM-O-GEN Yeast Vitamine Tablets, three times a day with meals. Improvement starts quickly, and some sort of the reported results are nothing short of amazing.

There seems to be no doubt that one of the reasons why VIM-O-GEN Yeast Vitamine Tablets are so satisfactory is because they are prepared from yeast that has been especially cultured. It is very certain that VIM-O-GEN is not only rich in Yeast vitamins, but it also contains two other vitamins, together with iron and other tonic properties, which science claims are so necessary in keeping the bodily vigor up to standard and in nourishing the tissues so that the bones may carry plenty of firm well-rounded flesh.

In addition to filling out the hollows and rounding out the angles, VIM-O-GEN, the Improved Yeast Vitamine Tablets, clear the skin as if by magic. Complexion difficulties such as blemishes, sallowness, pimples and so forth, disappear. The firm flesh is thus not only well and healthily rounded, but the skin radiates a tone such as only perfect health and vitality can give it.

Be sure you get the genuine VIM-O-GEN Yeast Vitamine Tablets. Ask your druggist to open a bottle. Notice the pleasant odor, which identifies the genuine VIM-O-GEN, Improved Yeast Vitamine Tablets, rich in the three vitamins that science tells us are so necessary to health, strength and energy. Absolutely guaranteed. Your money back if not satisfied.

Sold by Fisher & Stretch Pharmacy.

Seek To Abandon Its Properties

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 7.—Application to abandon its properties on the ground they are a losing proposition was made today to the state public utilities commission by the Interurban Railway and Terminal Company, Cincinnati.

The company now operates two lines, one extending from Cincinnati to Lebanon, and the other from Cincinnati to New Richmond, Clermont county. In the spring of 1918 the company abandoned its suburban division which ran from Cincinnati to Bethel.

Deficits in operating revenues for the last four years are given as follows: 1918, $84,233.27; 1919, $13,305.54; 1920, $20,344.08; 1921, $18,011.31.

The case has been set for hearing January 31.

Nelsonville Singer Chosen

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Paul Parks, a little known singer hailing from Nelsonville, Ohio, has been chosen from more than fifty baritone for a debut at the memorial concert to the late American baritone, David Bispham, at Carnegie Hall, December 13. This was announced today by the David Bispham memorial committee named to carry out the late baritone's wishes that opportunities be accorded young American artists.

Mr. Parks, who is 27 years old and a war veteran, has never sung publicly in New York, but has appeared in concerts in the midwest. The judges who selected him are Henry Hadley, Sig Spaeth and Lynn Feiler.

Protection Furnished by Nature.

An ancient example of "protective mimicry" is seen in the wings of fossil cockroaches of the Coal age, which are strikingly like the leaflets of certain ferns that flourished at the same period. This resemblance undoubtedly aided the insects to conceal themselves among the fallen leaflets.

Battery B Boys To Repeat Fistic Show

Although only a small sum was realized by the boys of Battery B at the boxing on Monday night's fistic card at Sun theatre, the Battery lads are all ready talking of more boxing shows that will be held during this winter. The Battery had a big expense in connection with this first show and therefore did not make any big sum, although the attendance was considered very good. The boys feel that the fight fans are behind them in promoting these sport shows and will endeavor to make the cards as interesting and lively as Monday night's bill. They will also cut down expenses.

Williams, Sept. of the Adult Department of the First Christian Bible school, a goodly representation of the men from each of the men's classes as well as the officers and men teachers of the school, met at the church last evening at 7:30. E. N. Potter took charge of the song service and delivered the meeting with several stirring songs in which the men joined heartily.

The song service was followed by a golfed, first a partial report of the big Bible school for the coming year and their hearty expressions of thorough cooperation to make the school bigger and better during 1922 than in 1921. G. W. Edwards also left some very thoughtful about cooperation not only in the Bible school but in all the activities of the church.

"My vision is bigger and broader," said Mr. Edwards, "and I am sure if each one of you will get under your corner of the load, there will be no slackening of the work during the time of the departure of our present pastor and the coming of the new one."

Meet Tonight

The Seoto County State Supervisors of Elections will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight at the board's quarters in the Kricker building to allow bills and consider any other business which may be presented.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS
NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Selected issues again were brought forward by bull pools at the opening of today's stock market. Famous Players, common and preferred, American Woolen, Best Sugar, preferred, American Can, and Union Pacific, all advanced. The market recovered considerably during the forenoon on a very large volume of operations. Apart from several of the better known stocks, equipments and shipbuilding, the list made further gains. Canadian Pacific was the outstanding feature among rails, rising 3/4 points. General Asphalt of the oil and merchandising shares continued to be featured by chain store issues including Kresge and Ogilworth. Textiles were well supported as were also copper, chemicals and food specialties. Call money was freely supplied at 4 1/2 per cent. The bond market showed further irregularity on realizing sales.

Bull pools were in control of the stock market today, but the tighter money rates and pressure against speculative favorites caused a sharp reversal before the close. Sales approximated $50,000 shares.

Chicago Grain And Provisions

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—New weakness developed in the wheat market today during the early dealings. A leading bullish factor at this time was the report of a big bank failure in South Germany. On the downturns, however, commission houses took to the buying side. Opening quotations, which ranged from 5 1/2 decline to 1 1/2 advance, with May 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 and July 1 1/2 to 1 1/2, were followed by a moderate general setback, and then something of a rally.

Prices closed steady 1 1/2 to 5 1/2 net lower, with May 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 and July 1 1/2 to 1 1/2.

Corn and oats were easy with wheat. After opening the corn market sagged a little all around. Oats started out changed to be higher. May 37 1/2, 37 1/2 and later showed but slight change.

Provisions were dull but firmer, in line with hogs.

The closing was heavy. Government issues and most other bonds reflected further realizing sales.

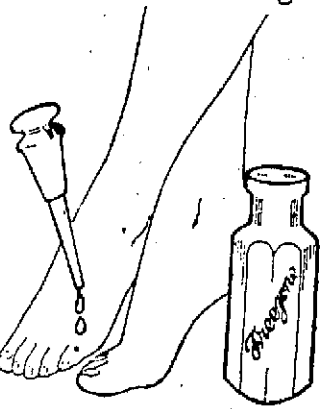

The close was unsettled to 1 1/2 net lower, with May 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 and July 1 1/2 to 1 1/2.

Plan For Big Year

The men of the First Christian church held an enthusiastic meeting last night at the church to plan for the coming year. They are determined to make 1922 surpass the present year, and began the planning last night. The meeting was in charge of John R. Williams, who kept things moving every minute. The meeting was for all of the men of the Bible School and the church, with their friends.

A report from the Adult Convention at Springfield, was read, and the various class officers made short reports on the work that had been done, and there was much discussion on things that should and could be done next year. The men left the meeting all ready for work, plenty of it.

The work of the meeting was summed up in a short talk by C. M. Howland, superintendent of the Bible School.

All of the men present joined in the song service that opened the meeting.

Not So Much

A professor in Chicago told his audience that there are no beautiful women in the United States. We haven't been invited to get into this argument and it's none of our business but we would like to horn in with just this statement that we've never seen a professor who was much to look at.

DON'T BE BALD

How to Make Hair Grow Strong, Thick and Lustrous

If your hair is thinning out, don't wait another day, but go to Webster Bros. and get a bottle of Parlan Sage, the truly efficient hair grower.

Don't say: "It's the same old story: I've heard it before, but try a bottle at their risk. They guarantee Parlan Sage to stop falling hair and stimulate a new growth, banish all dandruff and almost instantly stop scalp itching and money back."

Parlan Sage contains just the elements needed to properly invigorate the hair roots. It's a prime favorite with discriminating women because it makes the hair so soft and lustrous, and appears twice as abundant.

Parlan Sage is inexpensive and easily obtainable at all drug stores—Exaggeration.

Salt Lake City Business Man Reports Gain

Don J. Perry, 370 Quince St., well-known Salt Lake City, Utah, business man, in reporting remarkable gains in weight both by himself and his wife, says:

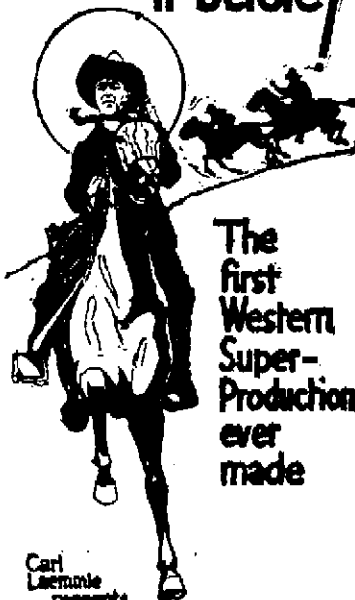

"My wife gained twenty-eight pounds and I gained ten pounds in a few weeks by taking Taulac. The change in Mrs. Perry is all the more remarkable, as she had been going down hill steadily for four or five years. She got no nourishment from her food and I don't believe she averaged three hours sleep out of the twenty-four."

"While my condition was not as serious as hers, I had been under the weather for some time, had no appetite and was bothered a good deal by indigestion and more than is claimed for it with us."

Taulac is sold in Portsmouth by the Fisher & Strick Pharmacy and by the leading druggists in every town—Advertisement.

The first Western Super-Production ever made

HARRY CAREY
in the most stupendous Western ever screened

THE FOX
Directed by Robt. Thorby

UNIVERSAL JEWEL Super-Production

See A Thousand And One Thrills at The Eastland Theatre for Three Days Only, Starting Tomorrow, Matinee and Night—Jewel Pictures Presents the First Super-Western Picture Ever Screened, "The Fox," Starring Harry Carey, supported by A Thousand of the West's Most Famous Cowboys—You Never Saw Anything Like It Before.

Program
A—From the Land of the Sky Blue Water, a color treat.
B—"A Thousand Corners." A comedy starring Brownie, the dog actor.
C—Jewel presents Harry Carey in "The Fox," supported by Breezy Eason.

What is promised as the greatest Western photodrama ever made, has been produced by Universal with Harry Carey in the starring role. Reflecting in the widespread appeal of the West today, with its thrilling romance and picturesque realism, Universal decided to make a "Super-Western" picture. It is "The Fox," which comes to the Eastland Theatre tomorrow and which is the first super-production to be made by the long popular "Western" star, Harry Carey.

In recognition of his long list of successful photodramas and of the place which Carey holds in the affection of the American public, Carl Laemmle, president of Universal, recently cited the Ace of the Saddle and awarded him a place among the Universal-Jewel stars, who make Universal's most elaborate pictures. That means that he is to appear in photodramas for which there is no time or economic limit in production and that he is to rank with the foremost stars of the world in the elaborateness of his starring vehicles. "The Fox" is said to have cost nearly a quarter of a million dollars in production.

His first photodrama to go to the screen as a Universal-Jewel is naturally of particular interest to the public. It has already been pronounced a masterpiece by critics within the motion picture industry and now the verdict of the playgoers is awaited to confirm the judgment of the profession.

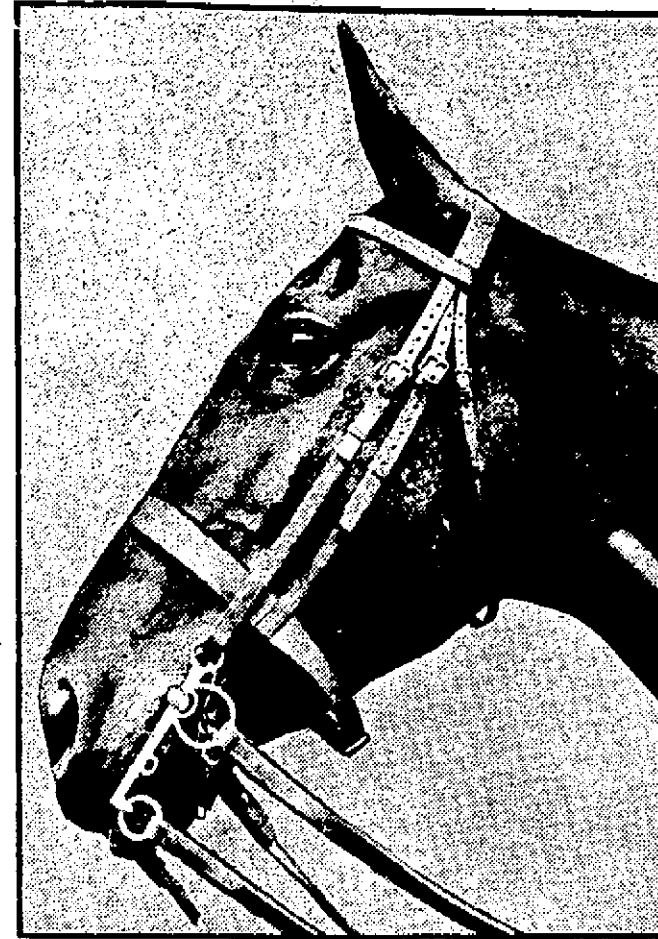

The story was written by Carey himself.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS
IN "THE NUT"

Positively Your Last Chance Tonight To See Douglas Fairbanks in His New Picture, "The Nut," at The Eastland Theatre, A Rip-Roaring Comedy of Fast Action and Thrilling Feats—First Showing in This City. Don't Miss It Tonight.

PROGRAM
A—Screen Snapshots. The Latest from the Studios.
B—Harold Lloyd in "Back to the Woods" a Rollick comedy.
C—Overture—Eastland orchestra.
D—Douglas Fairbanks in his new picture "The Nut."

In "The Nut" Douglas Fairbanks' fifth production for the United Artists.

the star has a vehicle that is absolutely made to order. It is not pictured from some widely-read book or famous stage play, but is an original story written especially for the occasion by Kenneth Lavenport, and the screen adaptation was prepared by William Parker and Lotte Woods under "Doug's" own supervision.

The management of the Eastland Theatre announces that Fairbanks' admirers will have an opportunity to view this versatile actor's work from an entirely new angle when the picture opens for a three day run today. Not only does he go smashing and crashing through five reels of complicated comedy-drama, but he portrays emotion that has a heart touch in it. The trend of the story carries him from the sublime to the ridiculous and although much that he does is grotesque there is never a time it is said, when he does not win your sympathy with his antics.

"The Nut" is especially notable because it is essentially a studio product. Although the story material was assembled and the plot worked out three thousand miles from the scene of production, yet the actual taking of the picture was accomplished on the Fairbanks' lot in Los Angeles. Not a single scene was "shot" outside the high board fence that encloses the studio. All the elaborate exteriors, including several Greenwich Village streets, in addition to many lavish interiors, came out of the studio carpenter and the business office check-book.

Fleischmann's Yeast is a food—not a medicine.

Avoid the use of so-called yeast preparations. Many of these contain only a small amount of yeast—as little as one-tenth of a yeast cake—mixed with drugs or medicines. The familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label is the only form in which you can get Fleischmann's Yeast for Health. Be sure it's Fleischmann's fresh Yeast. Do not be misled by yeast-substitutes.

MAY SERVE SOME PURPOSE

A seeming fault with Americans is they are too discursive in their purposes. Without holding steadfast to an object for sometime they quickly run away from a brief activity towards it into another.

Take this matter of the general welfare for instance. We have a week devoted to this and the next to that, with something else quickly and variably following. Just like the bee, flitting from flower to flower and let us also hope like him, gathering at least a modicum of sweetness from wherever we pause.

This week is set aside for the promotion of health, individual and public. Nothing more important could be chosen. Health concerns each one and all, yet it is doubtful if any other subject could be found in which it is so difficult to arouse anything like general and concerted interest. The person who has health is unconscious of its blessing and it is next to impossible to awaken in him any effort to retain it. The public health is indefinite and too impersonal to arouse interest. It is only in case of an epidemic, or the appearance of frequent cases of dread maladies that the community bestirs itself to the thought that its general health is the common and individual concern.

Let it be hoped that Health Week will, at least put the germ of thought in the mind of someone here and there that a robust physical condition is worth maintaining and that effort there towards is well worth expending both in the person and in the community.

STRIKING A NEW LEAD

THE income tax is the most hateful and the most expensive of all revenue producers. Thousands evade it in a thousand different ways and the effort and direction of the government in collecting its dues are constantly extending and expanding.

The latest is either a prompt visit or an urgent invitation to the sellers of real estate to come to the captain's office for over. It is, indeed, remarkable how easily and frequent persons are unmindful that they must report in detail and in full transactions on which they receive a profit, but this weakness extends more to those who dispose of real estate holding than any other. A man who sells a house he has owned for several years is utterly oblivious to the fact that he has a gain thus that must be accounted for. The result is there are scattered all over the country a host who are taken to be holding back taxes. They will not be allowed much longer to learn to their sorrow, if a profit has been received, real estate profits, as well as all others must be accounted for. Deputies have been going over the records of realty sales and let no one delude himself that because the deed reads for "one dollar and other valuable considerations" he has deluded Uncle Sam. Quite the contrary, as the assumption is that when a deed fails to give the actual consideration there is a purpose to conceal, and the actual sale price will be ascertained beyond any question.

The government is not particularly interested in what manner a man makes his money or how much he makes—enough to allow it to exact a portion thereof.

Quite everything owes government dues these days and not so many are escaping as might seem. It is the policy of Uncle Sam to get everything coming to him and he generally finds ways for so doing. Putting it after the way of the cub reporter, not a few prominent citizens, scattered indiscriminately about, are, we fear, in for an uncomfortable time.

MIGHT LEARN FROM MEXICO

NATIONS are pattering and pottering around Washington, going to great expense, to learn how to limit armament. They might, if they would take a lesson from Mexico. Profession of contempt for that country is well nigh universal, but in this particular matter she shows she has the wisdom to go about it in a common sense and effective way.

When the Obregon government induced Villa to lay down his arms, it found it had entirely too many soldiers on hand, near a hundred thousand, to say nothing of twenty thousand officers, few ranking below colonel. The military establishment was eating up half the revenues, and that was as bad as here in the United States where it is consuming sixty percent. A limitation process was at once instituted. All soldiers who wished to retire to civil pursuits were permitted to do so, incompetents were inexorably decided out and then lands, equipment and several months' pay by way of bonus were given to those who would settle in colonies. The reduction thus effected was material in the total and it had one altogether desirable effect, the retirement of Villa to peaceful pursuits, a change that is said to have effected a marvelous transformation in him, as he has become a most pious mortal.

The son in college who writes his father that he is burning the midnight oil doesn't add that it is costing him 30 cents a gallon now.

For an object lesson along that line, there might be cited the nice way the Japs and Chinese get along in the disarmament conference.

Germany is expected to send an ambassador to the United States about January 1—provided a man can be found who has something besides paper marks.

Federal tax collections for the year were less and it cost proportionally more to get the money. In paying taxes Americans are not generous spenders.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, December 7.—When the slush gates of early mid-town traffic go up New York's army of blind beggars tap their uncertain way to their familiar posts, hung with trays of chewing gum, pencils, whisks brooms and gim-cracks.

All day long they stare into fathoms of darkness with sublime quiet and touching melancholy while the city mills and jostles about them. There are nearly 50 in the shopping district alone, holding forth in abandoned doorways and on curbs.

When the nights of winter come they creep into the friendly crevices of the subway kiosks and elevated stands, swaying dantly to and fro to keep up circulation.

Blue Pete, maimed by a powder blast, has been at Herald Square for 18 years. He knew voices of the great—Benett of the Herald, the late Mayor Gaynor, Diamond Jim Brady, Clarence M. Dwyer and scores of others who often stopped to pass the time of day.

Toddy Dennis in Times Square gives ten per cent of his earnings to an institution for the sightless. He was once a gay cavalier along the Tenderloin until a discarded amorous hurler a vitrol into his face in a cafe one feverish night.

The evening he left the hospital doomed to darkness he returned to the cafe to see a group of his old cronies and after a few drinks he did a sort of dance macabre—a tribute to his last fling. The next day he began hawking lead pencils on the streets and says he is happy and at peace.

Miller and Doc, two famous blind beggars, travel arm in arm. They live together on Avenue A, and every morning come over Forty-Second street chattering like a pair of early morning sparrows. Miller leaves Doc at the library steps and goes on to his "pitch" in Thirty-Fourth. Most of them make from $8 to $10 a day.

The wheeze that gets the biggest laugh in a Broadway musical show runs something like this:
 "Do you know how to stop falling blind?"
 "Th' hell! How?"
 "Get in under it!"

There is a dimly lit old chop house hard by the Metropolitan where life settles into a serene unconsciousness of the outside roar of traffic. It is a low celled and wainscoted room where intellectuals find their nephews among the chimney pots. Pictures of the hunt, the yews and beeches above Maidenhead, flagstoned gardens and other restful pictures line the walls. Rejane visited it, so did Sir Henry Irving, Luffi and the Prince of Wales who later became King Edward. The other evening I dropped in there for a bite. At a table sat a noted litterateur, a poet, a playwright and an academician—and they were spinning a Put and Take too. One is forever having a favorite illusion burst, "I wanted to shoot 'Atta boys!"

In Forty-Seventh street is a window filled with Senhyan puppies. Next door is an old brick book shop with a window filled high with rare and pre-

Compensation

There was plenty for the railroads when munitions must be moved. And the empties were a string! From New York to San Antonio. And the guys who built the freighters could eat Lyonaise potatoes. While the soldier man was lucky if he got a horse's bone.

Now the Senate solons tell us. With their pompous honeyed phrases. That the golden goose ain't layin' As she did in seventeen. That the greatest, richest nation Can't afford the compensation. To the guys that worked together In the Yankee war machine.

There was plenty, though, for parties Who contracted for the clothing. And who shipped the gold canned willy. That we dined on overseas. But some jack to keep us going. 'Till the winter winds stop blowing. Oh, my goodness, quite unheard of. Let 'em freeze—yes, let 'em freeze!

They can garner many billions. For enforcing prohibition. They can squander many fortunes. On a plane that never flew. But their present expectation. In the case of compensation. Is to let her ride, by clause— Which is what they'd love to do! —Stuart H. Carroll.

THAT GUILTIEST FEELING—BY BRIGGS

Stands By Him

She was a sweet young bride, who had already found that what looks like a nice piece of meat in the shop often seems to have gone through a private transformation scene when it arrives blue.

"How is it," she inquired eagerly, when an old married friend called upon her, that you always manage to have such delicious beef?"

"It's very simple," replied the older woman. "I first select a good, honest butcher and then I stand by him."

"Oh, I see. You give him all the trade, you mean?" said the innocent young bride.

"No," answered her companion gravely. "I stand by him while he is cutting the meat."—Washington Post.

Eye to Business

A traveling salesman driving his car along a country road came upon a victim of a grade-crossing accident. The car was a complete wreck and its former occupant just "coming to." He leaned over the injured man and shook him.

"What's the matter, brother, an accident?"

"No."

"Did the engineer blow his whistle?"

"No."

"Did anyone see it?"

"No."

"Well, tell me the claim agent been around yet?"

"No."

Mr. Jessaway was fussy about the correct use of the English language, too fussy perhaps, and was always ready to find fault with offenders. Also he was in anything but a good temper as he sat down in his favorite restaurant.

"Give me a steak," he said, "and some corn and some baked potatoes." "Baked potatoes are all over," said the girl.

"Oh, they're all over, huh?" snorted Mr. Jessaway. "And what are they all over?"

"With," she replied simply.
